

The Geneva LL.M. in International Dispute Settlement (MIDS)
and
The Geneva Centre for International Dispute Settlement (CIDS)

are looking for a

Postdoctoral Teaching Fellow in International Dispute Settlement specialised in private international dispute settlement

Hours:	Full time
Contract time:	Fixed-term for 1 year, renewable, for a maximum of 3 years
Location:	Geneva (the candidate should be located throughout the period of the contract either in the city or in its surrounding areas)
Contract start:	1 September 2022
Salary:	CHF 85'000 per annum (gross)
Closing date for applications:	8 May 2022

Required qualifications

- A PhD in international dispute settlement (ideally in commercial and/or investment arbitration), completed not more than two years ago. Candidates who have not yet completed a PhD but are scheduled to do so before the end of the calendar year 2022 may also apply, although strictly no working time will be granted for the completion of the doctorate and a different salary would apply until completion of the doctorate.
- Demonstrated interest, academic capabilities and/or practical experience in international dispute settlement
- Strong command of the English language, sufficient to teach, interact with students, mark student papers, and write research papers.
- Good knowledge of French would be an asset.

Responsibilities

50% teaching, mostly in the LL.M, including class time (approx. 130h/year), significant pastoral care (such as marking and giving feedback on formative essays, second-supervising master theses, accompanying students on study trips, office hours and general availability for student queries), and teaching support to professors.

20% administration and citizenship, including providing logistical support for classes and events.

30% research on assigned projects, including the organisation of Doctoral Seminars.

Application packages should include a motivation letter, a CV, copies of academic diplomas, work certificates, and the names of two references. Interested candidates should submit their application through the Graduate Institute's recruitment platform: https://erecruit.graduateinstitute.ch/recrutement/?page=advertisement_display&id=410
